

Home » Construction & Design, Photo Gallery

GNYCUC: Quest to Dominate the Skyline

By REW Staff

5:22 PM, NOVEMBER 8, 2013

Tweet 3

Recommend 0

The Greater New York Construction User Council hosted a program entitled “Going Higher: The Quest to Dominate the NYC Skyline,” at 7 World Trade Center in New York City. The program was moderated by Hugh Hardy, FAIA, founding partner of H3 Hardy Collaboration Architecture and author of Higher: A Historic Race to the Sky and the Making of a City. Panelists included Michael M. Samuelian, Vice President of Related Companies, Janno Lieber, President of World Trade Center Properties, LLC of Silverstein Properties, Inc., and Tom Durels, Executive Vice President of Malkin Properties and Malkin Holdings. These speakers discussed the remarkable skyscrapers that shape the iconic skyline of New York City, including the Empire State Building, One World Trade Center and the Hudson Yards Redevelopment Project, and shared the efforts made to keep these structures relevant and competitive in today’s dynamic market.

◀ Back

Picture 1 of 3

Next ▶

Hugh Hardy and Ronald Javer

◀ Back

Picture 2 of 3

Next ▶

Michael Samuelian, Tom Durels, Janno Lieber and Hugh Hardy

◀ Back

Picture 3 of 3

Next ▶

Michael Samuelian, Tom Durels, Janno Lieber and Hugh Hardy

Archives

Select Month

REW on Twitter

- Donald Trump plans to build a Trump Tower in Russia, and is talking to potential local partners, Moscow daily Kommersant writes. 37 minutes ago
- LEASES: David Levy, Lindsay Ornstein, Michael Cohen rew-online.com/2013/11/08/lea... via @RE_Weekly about 1 hours ago
- WHO'S NEWS: Barden Gale, Midge Brogan, Scott Avram rew-online.com/2013/11/08/who... via @RE_Weekly about 1 hours ago
- Korman, Shorewood and Prodigy buy 84 William St for $60 million, and the next target is already found: rew-online.com/2013/11/08/kor... via @RE_Weekly about 2 hours ago
- Listings drought hitting residential agents hard rew-online.com/2013/11/07/lis... via @RE_Weekly 7 Nov